

One of the

LARGEST INDUSTRIAL WORKFORCES

in the country

(BLS, 2013)

#1

GLOBAL COMPETITIVE CITY

in machinery and equipment

(Site Selection, 2017)

TOP 10
MARKET

with the highest amount of new industrial development

(CBRE, 2017)

HOUSTON

A MANUFACTURING POWERHOUSE

Houston is one of the most important industrial bases in the world. Specialties include fabricated metal, machinery and chemical manufacturing. Growing subsectors include medical devices, therapeutics and food and beverage. Houston's global access and world-class infrastructure allows companies to minimize costs and reach a larger consumer base.

Alcon

ARC SPECIALTIES
AUTOMATED MANUFACTURING SYSTEMS

BORUSAN MANNESMANN

BAUER

CEMEX

DAIKIN

EMERSON

FOXCONN

fritoLay

GE

GOYA

KONIGSBERG
AUTOMOTIVE

MCF
MEDICAL DEVICE MANUFACTURING FORUM AMERICA INC.

MEDIVATORS
A Cardinal Medical Company

NOV

ORACLE

TechnipFMC

TOSHIBA

MANUFACTURING IN HOUSTON

Houston's diverse industries are actively transforming by leveraging and developing new digital technologies, including artificial intelligence, industrial internet of things, additive manufacturing and more.

INDUSTRY OVERVIEW

6,300+ manufacturers

$83 B in products annually

220,000+ employed

215,500
STEM specialists

4TH LARGEST number of engineers by metro

GLOBAL ACCESS

TWO
international airports

180+
daily non-stop destinations

#1 PORT
in the U.S. by foreign waterborne tonnage

1,800
miles of rail line & 3 class 1 railways

1ST LARGEST
U.S. Metro Exporter

$230+ B
in trade in 2018

ACCESS TO CONSUMERS

EQUIDISTANT
from east to west coasts

50% OF THE U.S.
POPULATION
within a 1,000-mile radius

28 MILLION
U.S. consumers within a 300-mile radius.